

Navigation Facility and Pop Ups balloons

- When the traveller reached Kerala and he/she is looking for a special place or a hotel something else, surely person will use Google Maps. This is a fact that all are using the Google map in now a days and even for searching a small place person will access the source of Google map.

Person will use both app (Kerala app + maps) at a time for his activities. So why can't we combine Google map with our application with their consent. So the problem of using both apps and making more complication combine both and help the traveller.

- When a traveller searched for a particular place surely person got his desired results. With these type of resulting will shows him only about that particular place. So instead of this additionally pop up or display the main events (alert with red balloon), main places in that locality or upcoming festivals (green balloon) and exhibitions (yellow balloon) in that area can be show to traveller. This impresses the traveller more to stay in Kerala for additionally two or three days. So instead of asking for other important places in that locality the traveller can access himself through the application. Even if the guide try to cheat him he knows everything which is good or bad (using reviews from former foreigners).
