KOZHIKODE BEACH

The golden sunset, the local delicacies, the selfie spots and murals along the beach are the highlights of the Kozhikode beach
The haven of every sunset lover also comes with the friendly squeaking of dolphins

Who would not love a stroll along one of the most charming beaches beholding a splendid sunset with an evening breeze rich in the authentic flavours of Malabar and a history so grand? Kozhikode beach, with a scenic view of the shore lined with shacks of delicious seafood, is a favourite spot for beach lovers. Dolphins’ Point is a preferred spot for a special welcome by the dolphins while the majestic lighthouse and the two ancient piers stretching into the sea offer a spectacular view.

The century-old Lion’s Park, a pleasant picnic spot, and the nearby marine water aquarium are popular among children, who are curious and eager to relish the frolic of creatures from sea. What makes the place all the more alluring is the aroma of cooked mussels from the shacks, and the happy chatter of people out to spend a beautiful evening together.

KAPPAD BEACH

"Kappad beach is of great significance in the history of Kerala. The place was known as the spice centre of the state in the medieval period."
The imprints of the legendary voyager lie beneath the sands of Kappad beach

Portuguese explorer Vasco Da Gama’s Kerala connection begins here

Life changed forever for the inhabitants of the region after Vasco da Gama set foot onto Malabar’s shores. With such a history, Kappad beach today remains one of the most blissful spots among the tourist destinations of Kerala. Kappad beach, or Kappakadavu in local parlance, makes for a relaxed getaway amidst golden sands and the soothing sounds of the sea. The site was discovered by foreigners over 500 years ago in 1498, when 170 men, led by Da Gama, disembarked there.

A stone monument stands prominently on the sands commemorating this historical ‘landing’. In present day Kappad, nearby shacks offer an excellent variety of local delicacies. The major attraction of the beach also includes an 800-year-old temple. Most visitors choose to reach Kappad through the backwaters, which provide a glimpse of the fishing hamlets.

THAMARASSERY GHAT

“Yearly, thousands of tourists pass this ghat to experience the beauty of nature in its grandeur. A ride through the mist-covered Thamarassery pass is an unforgettable experience.”
A passage to heaven offering breathtaking sights and unending memories

This magnificent mountain range, connecting the districts of Kozhikode and Wayanad, stands within the Western Ghats parallel to the western coast of the Indian peninsula, at about 2,625 ft above ground level. The hill highway has nine hairpin bends, each opening to a new vista of breathtaking sights. The mountain pass or ‘churam’ extends to about 14 km to Lakkidi Viewpoint, where it ends, and with each curve, the emerald valley below beckons. The zig-zagging roads leading all the way up the lush green hills are often enfolded in heavenly mist which makes the trip a once-in-a-lifetime experience.

Lakkidi, located right after the viewpoint, is a small town where the pass ends and Wayanad district begins. The route offers an impressive option of resorts and homestays for visitors.
Mananchira Park and the surrounding areas provide a glimpse of architectural elegance and the rich cultural values of the Kozhikode city.
As a reminder of ancient times, Mananchira Square stands at the heart of Kozhikode city, symbolizing the architectonic culture of the late rulers who created the splendid monument around the artificially-made pond of Mananchira. The huge rectangular pond built by the Zamorin, Mana Vikrama, around the 14th century, is now a popular recreational spot.

The area around the tank has been converted into a park, meticulously landscaped with lawns and evergreen trees to blend in with its old-world charm. The arch at the entrance, flanked by Tipu Sultan’s cannons, the fascinating sculptures and the ancient buildings built in the traditional architectural style of Kerala show the rich heritage of the Zamorin rule. The square showcases cultural arts and music; and has an open-air theatre as well as a musical fountain.

A kingdom of diverse flora and fauna

Wetlands, mangrove forests make this a true haven of diverse flora and fauna

Sarovaram Biopark is an eco-friendly initiative undertaken by the government to conserve a 200-acre eco-system consisting of wetlands and mangrove forests. Situated adjacent to Canoly Canal, the Biopark is a well-protected bio-reserve that offers a canal walkway, floating rafts and a board walk as well as boating facilities to keep the visitors entertained.

Besides the surreal beauty of rich biodiversity, fascinating creatures of Nature can be observed in the otter park, butterfly park, bird sanctuary and the aquarium.

A musical fountain, a children’s park and an amphitheatre add to the charm of the park, making it a favourite spot for adults and children alike. The eco-friendly theme of the park showcases seven mangrove species, 34 bird species and 29 associated species.

BEYPORE BEACH

“Indulge in Ayurvedic healing amidst the gentle waves and sun-kissed shore of Beypore”
Be a spectator to the glorious sunset beyond the waves

Beypore beach is Kozhikode at its most charming. The trade and maritime map of ancient Kerala notes Beypore as one of its important gateways, through which the Arabian merchants, Chinese travellers and later Europeans gained access to Kerala and explored more of Malabar.

Here tranquility unfolds as coconut trees sway tenderly in the cool breeze. The beach is also renowned for its authentic Ayurvedic massage centres and various adventure water-sports activities. It is the perfect destination for an escape from the hurly-burly of modern life, where simply strolling along the golden shoreline makes you relaxed and warm. The beach is also known for its age-old dhow industry, famously called ‘Urus’. Speckled with silhouettes of such architectural marvels and a promenade leading 2 km into the sea, this place offers a glorious seaside experience.

VADAKARA BEACH

Vadakara Sandbanks Beach is formed at the confluence of Kottakal river and the Arabian Sea. It is one of the most preferred picnic spots.
Most families visit the beach for a silent getaway

A well-maintained children’s park and a garden add to beauty of the beach

One of the finest estuaries of Kerala, Vadakara beach is known for its breath-taking scenery and well-maintained children’s park, making it a popular picnic spot for many. Popularly known as Sandbanks Beach, it is located where the Kottakal river meets the Arabian Sea, and offers an astonishing sunset view to visitors.

The beach is located at the outskirts of the city, making it an ideal place for families to spend the evenings without the bustle of noisy crowds. One can spend quality time walking across the gently sloping strip of land or watch the lapping waves. Thanks to the vast stretch of the beach, visiting groups of tourists remain scattered, offering everyone enough privacy for a nice evening out. Vadakara is famous for being the birth place of Thacholi Othenan, the legendary hero of the Vadakkanpattu [the Northern Ballads of Kerala].

LOKANARKAVU TEMPLE

Lokanarkavu finds mention in Vadakkanpattu or songs/ballads of Northern Malabar from the medieval period
Divine energy, traditional architecture and a slice of history converge here

Built 1,500 years ago by the Aryan Vaishya Brahmins, Lokanarkavu temple is the epitome of heritage. The traditional Kerala architectural design transports visitors to another era. Goddess Durga, the presiding deity, is worshipped here. The place finds mention in Vadakkanpattu or songs/ballads of Northern Malabar from the medieval period.

The ballads convey stories of legendary heroes like Thacholli Othenan, who regularly worshipped the deity of Lokanarkavu temple. The temple is famous for its annual festivals. The first is Mandala Vilakku Utsavam or Lokanarkavu Utsavam which lasts for 41 days. The key feature of this festival is the traditional folk dance, thacholikali. The second festival is called pooram which takes place between March and April, and lasts for eight days. Poorakkali, a ritual art form, is a sight to behold.

A testament to religious harmony, the Mishkal Masjid at Kuttichira is one of the oldest mosques in Kozhikode district.
Mishkal Masjid has an important place in the history of the region

To the west of Kozhikode district stands the Kuttichira mosque in all its grandeur. The mosque, built 650 years ago by Nakhuda Mishka in the traditional Kerala architectural style, is a contrast to the modern style of present-day mosques. This four-storey building has 47 doors and 27 carved pillars; the ground floor has a prayer hall which can accommodate 600 people at a time. The minbar, made of timber, has Arabic inscriptions on them; while the Italian marble and coffered ceiling add to the beauty.

History records an instance of arson in the mosque, executed by the Portuguese. However, the mosque is a testament to the harmony that existed among various religions. The Zamorins helped rebuild the mosque after the incident as a gesture of gratitude to the Muslim koyas who bravely stood up to protect their fellow Hindu brothers during the war.

The museum has a valuable collection of weapons, ancient coins, pottery, antique bronzes and models of temples, even a stone sculpture dating back to the 7th century
The treasure trove of history and culture

Walk through the 200-year-old building & witness the rich history of Kerala

A trip to Kozhikode is incomplete without visiting the Pazhassi Raja Archaeological Museum, a gateway to the history of Kerala. The museum is located on East Hill Calicut, 10 km from the city bus stop and railway station. A small walk uphill takes you to a 200-year-old beautiful traditional building.

The museum has a valuable collection of weapons, ancient coins, pottery, antique bronzes and models of temples, even a stone sculpture dating back to the 7th century. The mural paintings on display offer insight into the techniques and tools of the time. Some of the artefacts are directly linked to the legendary ruler Kerala Varma Pazhassi Raja. Make sure you visit the adjacent art museum too, which has some of the original paintings by Raja Ravi Varma and his uncle Raja Raja Varma, two of the most renowned artists from Kerala.

Adventurers test their mettle at this mist-capped waterfalls

The waterfalls of Thusharagiri are located among the dense forests of the Western Ghats. The area is sure to awaken all your senses and captivate you with its mystical, mist-covered beauty. The place is located 50 km from Kozhikode and the forests stretch out to Vythiri in Wayanad. The place gets its name from the powdery veil covering the mountains which is formed from the drizzle of the gushing water that cascades downhill.

It comprises three waterfalls - Erattumukku, Mazhavil chattam and Thenpara – the last-mentioned being the highest waterfall amongst them. Reaching the first two waterfalls is relatively easy but to reach Thenpara waterfall, one should travel deep into the lush woods and follow the course of an upstream hike. This is not for the faint-hearted, a reason why adventurers hold this place close to their hearts.

Every year, thousands of devotees flock to witness the festival of Mahashivaratri at this temple built in the 14th century.
Thali Shiva temple is the oldest temple in Kerala which dates back to the 12th century. Every year thousands of devotees flock to witness the festival of Mahashivaratri, which is celebrated during the Malayalam month of Kumbham [Feb.–March].

The temple was built by the Zamorin, Swamy Thirumulapad. The building is designed in the traditional architectural style of Kerala. Intricate carvings on the wooden roof, the chariot design on the walls of the sanctum sanctorum paired with brass designs, and the murals throughout the walls of the entire temple form the grand features of the temple. The towers of intricate designs and carvings at the entrance add to the glory of the temple. The main deity worshipped here is Lord Shiva. Between the month of October and November, the annual assembly of scholars, named Revathi Pattathanam is conducted here.
